Fuel Your Body's Defenses with

‘True 6-Hour Extracted’ Colostrum Powder

Wellness Extract Colostrum powder is a 100% natural protein, immunoglobulin supplement extracted and harvested from grade A, healthy, grass-fed, hormone-free dairy cows within 6 hours of giving birth. Due to its liposomal action, colostrum in powder form is easier and faster to absorb than capsules. Wellness Extract Colostrum Powder is enriched with over 95 immune and 87 growth factors— adaptogenic components that promote the holistic development of a healthy body.

100 times more Powerful than Human Colostrum

Colostrum Powder, along with a well-balanced diet and exercise, may help you achieve a leaner body mass and a higher quality of life. Colostrum protein contains vital minerals, enzymes, and vitamins such as essential amino acids, lactoferrin, and glyconutrients. Colostrum powder contains all of these and high levels of natural antibodies, making it a great natural liposomal protein supplement powder for humans. Colostrum also contains essential components to help support our metabolism; for example, insulin-like growth factor 1 (IGF-1), a potent hormone that interacts with almost every cell in the body, is found abundantly in colostrum and may provide support for individuals fighting against diabetes. Leptin is a hormone-like protein that may help suppress appetite and regulate the metabolism of fats and is also present in colostrum.

Choosing the right colostrum: why is it important?

Choosing the right colostrum is vital because not all colostrum supplements are manufactured equally. When choosing a colostrum supplement, you should be sure it is only made from colostrum collected within hours of birth and that it is complete, with none of its components removed. Our colostrum fulfills these demands, as it is certified as true colostrum by associates of Cornell University.

Why Choose Wellness Extract Colostrum Powder?

Our colostrum powder is low heat, spray dried, chemical free, and uses no fillers. Furthermore, the bovine colostrum that goes into making our colostrum is recovered from cows within 0 to 6 hours of their birth since it is their first milking colostrum; this means all of its nutrients are intact, including natural chymosin, which helps enter the gut.

Therapeutic Benefits Of Colostrum Powder

True 6-Hour Extracted Colostrum Protein

Harvested at the peak of its freshness, within 6 hours of birthing, our colostrum powder is loaded with glyconutrients and only extracted after the newborn calves get their well-deserved share.

Promotes Collagen Production

Colostrum contains growth factors and amino acids that can stimulate collagen production in the body. This can help improve skin elasticity and reduce wrinkles and fine lines.

Strengthens Hairs and Nails

Colostrum contains a variety of nutrients that are essential for healthy hair and nails, including biotin, zinc, and vitamin D. These nutrients can help to strengthen hair and nails, prevent breakage, and promote growth.

Body Regeneration

Loaded with immune, growth, and metabolic factors, colostrum powder is highly beneficial for healthy aging, reviving, and repairing tissues, making it one of the best regeneration supplements.

Improves Gut Health

Colostrum is an excellent lactoferrin protein supplement that strengthens gut health. Colostrum powder helps improve gastro-intestinal (GI) functions by maintaining the gut microbiome. It also promotes gut healing as it contains growth-factors and anti-inflammatory compounds. This can be particularly beneficial for those with gut damage and leaky gut syndrome.

Enhances Skin Hydration

Bovine colostrum contains hyaluronic acid, which is well-known to keep the skin hydrated and plump. This can improve skin texture and reduce the appearance of dryness and dullness.

Immunity Supplement

Our Colostrum powder is 100% antibiotic and hormone-free, enriched with essential amino acids, vitamins, minerals, and immunoglobulins that are building blocks for developing healthy body functions.
